

UF Connections in Ireland

Ireland is situated in Western Europe. Its capital city is Dublin. The US Department of State estimates its population at 4,952,473. Information about travelling to Ireland is on the Department of State website. The Center for Disease Control and Prevention also has useful travel information.

The University of Florida (UF) has a wide array of collaborations with (the Republic of) Ireland. These include study abroad and exchange programs, internships, and research projects with a variety of institutions and partners. Ireland is a consistently popular destination and point of interest for UF students and faculty alike, and offers a diverse range of opportunities to those interested.

UF Students in Ireland

During the Fall 2014–Summer 2015 academic year, 61 University of Florida students studied in Ireland. Below are all of the reciprocal agreements UF has in Ireland. Reciprocal agreements are the foundation for the exchange programs in which so many UF students are involved. In an exchange program, students pay UF tuition and are assigned UF course equivalencies for the work they do abroad. Reciprocal agreements provide for the equal exchange of students between the University of Florida and an international accredited institution. Agreements are typically valid for three years initially and can be renewed through a signed addendum, if both parties agree.

Internships

- Heavener School of Business – Study Abroad and Intern in Dublin

The Heavener School of Business offers a combined internship and study abroad program for students in Dublin in partnership with Griffith College and CAPA The Global Education Network. Students can gain course credit in classes such as management, marketing, and business law and through their internship and internship seminar.

Cooperative Agreements

Cooperative Agreements are broad declarations of intent for the promotion of exchanging faculty and students as well as the exchange of academic and research information. These agreements are generally valid for five years, with the possibility of renewal if both parties agree. The Cooperative Agreements UF has with Ireland's institutions can be found below, with the full list of agreements available at: <http://ufic.ufl.edu/Agreements.html>
